RESET YOUR SPACE, RESET YOUR LIFE.

Melanie is a Certified Professional Organizer® and founded Reset: Professional Organizing LLC in 2015. She focuses on home environments and is dedicated to helping clients solve problems that are caused by clutter.

She is a member of the National Association of Productivity & Organizing Professionals (NAPO), and has received Specialist Certificates in Essentials of Organizing, Residential Organizing, Life Transitions, Household Management, and Workplace Productivity.

She teaches an enrichment course at Madison College and speaks to local organizations and clubs on topics such as home organizing, downsizing, and productivity.

She has early memories of organizing stacks of packaged soap underneath her grandmother's bathroom vanity. Her grandmother had huge piles of tiny hotel soap and every time Melanie visited, she would pull them all out and organize them by size. Then by color. Or by shape. Or sometimes by the name of the hotel on the front. It was endless fun, and her grandmother never complained about the mess or made her stop.

As Melanie grew older, she moved many times and has few mementos from childhood. These transitions taught her that "things" were not important. People are. Experiences are.

After working with Melanie clients have fewer things cluttering their space, more time and hopefully less stress. Clients are able to find things, get more done, relax in their space, spend more time with family and friends, save time and money, organize better on their own, and live a more stress-free life.
